MOOSE JAW.

MOOSE JAW, one of the rapidly growing towns in Saskatchewan, has come into prominence during the last few years, its population having grown from 2000 five years ago, to over 20,000 to-day. Situated on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, with its large stock yards, mills, elevators, and its valuable asset natural gas, Moose Jaw is fast becoming one of the most important centres in Western Canada. The town has many fine buildings and well laid out streets, as can be seen from the beautiful pictures contained in this album.
